Words to Move You

Let those returned stand straight and tall,
And remember those who gave their all.
Remembering those who fell that day,
And those we left so far away.
Let's now forget the drums of war,
Whose faded sounds we'll ever mourn.
They served in hell, they've earned their rest,
In heaven's arms they've passed God's test.
Two walls of stone, names forever engraved,
A diamond for those who've passed away.
A cross for those whose fate unknown,
A circle for them who may still come home.
