Words to Move You

In the end, Liberty is a pattern of life shared by free people. The right to go to a church with a cross, star, dome or steeple; the right to shout your opinions 'til your tonsils are worn to a frazzle; the right to go to school, to enter a profession, to earn an honest living; and the obligation to do an honest day's work; the right to put your side of the argument in the hands of a jury. The right to choose who shall run our government, and the obligation to guard that right and keep it clean. The right to hope, dream and pray--- and the obligation to serve.

Tenth Anniversary Celebration:

Carillon VFW Post 12059 recently celebrated its 10th Anniversary as a Chartered VFW Post of the United States of America. The celebration was held in the tent at The Links Grill next to the Carillon Club House. Past National Commander George Cramer was the Honored Guest for the event and presented Commander Jim Singler with a Certificate of Recognition for the posts' exceptional contributions to country, community and fellow veterans of all wars.
